

READY FOR BIG SHOW

Auto Exhibition Opens at Dupont Garage To-morrow.

SEVENTY-TWO CARS IN LINE

Finer Line of Machines Than Has Ever Before Been Shown in This City Will Be Placed on Exhibition by Thirty-four Different Factories. Building Excellent for the Display.

Washington's seventh annual automobile show will open at the Dupont garage, on M street, to-morrow evening.

Like all former exhibitions, the show will be under the auspices of the Washington Automobile Dealers' Association, composed of all the leading men in the industry in this city. The show committee is composed of C. Royce Hough, chairman; C. E. Miller, William Jose, W. C. Long, J. M. Stoddard, T. A. Walter, and A. L. McCord. Every exhibit will be in its proper place when the lights are turned on to-morrow night, and visitors will not be annoyed by workmen fixing up the booths of belated exhibitors.

The big garage will supply a spacious home for the most comprehensive exposition of the automobile industry ever held in this city. Gasoline, steam, and electric motor cars, both for pleasure and business purposes, will be attractively displayed, with space for all sorts of accessories and sundries, without which no show would be complete. Prospective purchasers will have their choice from an array of cars that will range in price from $450 for a modest buckboard with a single cylinder engine to the ponderous touring car weighing several thousand pounds and costing $7,500.

Seventy-two cars in all will be shown, representing thirty-four different automobile makers. The show this year will include a finer line of vehicles than ever before gathered together in Washington, and will clearly show the improvement that has been made in automobile manufacture in the past year.

First Time in Garage.

For the first time in the history of the local trade the show is to be held in a garage, and the selection of this place is regarded as peculiarly appropriate. In the Dupont garage more than 20,000 square feet of space is available for exhibition purposes, and this is more than double the floor space of any previous show. The immense garage will be lighted by are lamps giving a light of fifteen candle-power for each foot of space. Music will be furnished by the Washington Orchestra Band, which will be personally conducted by William A. Haley. The latter has arranged an attractive programme of twelve numbers for each evening. Ample provision has been made for the comfort of ladies visiting the show. The chauffeurs' room has been enlarged to include a parlor for the ladies, and a maid will be in attendance at all hours.

The show will be opened promptly at 8 o'clock. Robert B. Caverly, president of the Automobile Club of Washington, will press the button that will turn on the electric lights, and will then make a few remarks on the progress of automobile building in Washington since the first show. Aside from Mr. Caverly's remarks, there will be no other formalities attending the opening of the show. Beginning Tuesday, the show will open at 11 o'clock each morning and will remain open until 11 o'clock at night.

The Pope Automobile Company, of Washington, will be well represented at the show. The company has obtained 1,000 square feet of space in which to display its extensive line of cars. Eight models will be shown, including the Pope-Toledo, Pope-Hartford, Pope-Tribune, Pope-Waverly, and the Locomobile. Three demonstrating cars will be in service throughout the show, giving prospective customers a chance to try out the cars before placing their orders. Manager Royce Hough will be in charge, assisted by Elliott P. Hough and a large force of salesmen.

Fourteen Cars in Exhibit.

Fourteen cars will be embraced in the exhibit of the Cook & Stoddard Co., and this company will also have three demonstrating cars. The cars shown will be the Pierce Arrow, White, Franklin, Cadillac, and Baker electric. J. M. Stoddard, Rudolph Jose, Mr. Bilvins, and others will be at the stand throughout the week.

A feature of the exhibit of the Motor Car Company will be the Thomas racing car, used by LeBlond in the last Vanderbilt Cup race. This car was exhibited at the recent New York show, and attracted much attention. Manager McCormick will have his exhibit composed of the Peerless, Thomas, and Stevens-Duryea, together with several motorcycles and a full line of sundries.

An attractive exhibit has been arranged by the National Automobile Company. The cars shown will be the Oldsmobile, Buick, and Studebaker electric. Six models will be shown, and the company will have personal charge of the exhibit.

The friends of the popular little Maxwell automobile, will be gratified to learn that J. R. Thomas, the local agent, will have a good exhibit, showing three Maxwells and a chassis. He will also have three demonstrating cars in use.

Cliff Long in Charge.

The exhibit of the Commercial Automobile and Supply Company will consist of seven models of the Wayne and Logan, and two demonstrating cars will be in daily service. Manager Cliff Long will have charge of the exhibit.

Reo & Ford gasoline cars and Columbus electric in five models, together with motorcycles, will comprise the exhibit of Charles E. Miller & Brother.

The Washington Electric Vehicle and Transportation Company will have an attractive exhibit, a large portion of which was exhibited at the recent New York show. Columbia gasoline and electric cars will make up the exhibit.

The Hamilton Automobile Company will show the Stoddard-Dayton in three models, together with a chassis. A number of demonstrating cars will be in service.

The Carter Motor Car Company will show a model of its two-engine car, and will have one of these outside the garage for demonstrating purposes.

At the exhibit of the Cabell Automobile Company will be found the Orient buckboard and the Orient touring runabout. Among the other exhibitors are National Electric Vehicle Company, who will show an extensive line of sundries, tires, and everything needed by the motorist; C. W. Hamilton, American Mercedes automobiles; Rudolph, West & Co., who will have a splendid showing of accessories and tires; Rose Manufacturing Company, lamps; Electric Storage Battery Company, storage batteries; Pennsylvania Rubber Company, tires; Anderson Spark Plug Company, spark plugs; Auto Tire Repair Works, tires.

G. W. U. MAKES GOOD SHOWING

Holds Virginia to 18 to 17 in First Intercollegiate Game.

Hatchettes Get an Early Advantage, but Charlottesville Team Wins Out at the Finish.

Special to The Washington Herald. Charlottesville, Va., Jan. 26.—The George Washington basketball team put up a rattling good game in the Fayerweather Gymnasium to-night, giving the Virginia five a bad scare, the final score standing: Virginia, 18; George Washington, 17.

While the contest was clean from start to finish, there was plenty of action, and it was anybody's victory until time was called at the close of the second half. George Washington started off with a rush and by clever passing and accurate throwing, soon had a total of 5 points to 2 for Virginia. Richmond scored in two quick shots from the field. Virginia then showed much improvement, and the first half ended a tie, 11 to 11.

The playing in the second half was even faster than the first, and on several occasions one or more of the players was stretched out on the floor. Hawkins made the final shot which brought victory to Virginia.

Victim of Auto Wreck Escapes With- out Broken Bones.

Hotel Ormond, Fla., Jan. 26.—Fred Marriott, the hero of yesterday's wreck on Daytona Beach, passed a good day and the doctors state that his chances for recovery are improving.

When a car is not in use Jacks should be placed under the frame to relieve the springs and tires from strain.

FAST SCHOOL TEAMS

Local Prep Squads Larger Than Ever Before.

ARE DEVELOPING RELAY FOURS

All of the high schools will have men in each open event at the Federal Games, while four will be represented in the relays. Midget events will be featured.

All the high schools and practically all the prep schools of the District will have boys in each open event at the Federal meet at Convention Hall, February 23.

Business has a score of athletes working every day under the direction of Dr. Hudson. Special attention is being paid to the development of a relay team to run against Eastern. Donovan is captain, and the other three runners will probably be chosen from Davis, Halsip, Lerch, Lave, Fletcher, and Quinter.

The commercial school will also put Zanelli in the quarter mile open handicap and shot-put; Welcker in the hurdles and 50-yard novice; Sprawls and Hamman in the novice sprint; Powell in the novice and open handicap sprints and shot-put; Kause and Hennig in the scholastic mile run, and Keenan in the high jump. Business will also enter one midget relay team.

Western High, always long on spirit and fight, has an unusually large squad at work. Capt. Osgood said yesterday that there will be two midget relay teams from his school. The midgets showing good form just now are Palmer, Randolph, Adams, Pennybaker, and Vogie. Western will also have Parker, Babcock, Winlock, Morse, and Kiets for the distance runs, and Capt. Osgood, Radford, Michael, Hodgson, Campbell, Davy, Joubert, Flemming, Donovan, Dutton, Hillyer, A. Howard, and Parks for the sprints, relays, middle distances, and field events.

Under the leadership of Capt. R. Brown and Manager Clark, the track squad mustered at Eastern High is stronger and more numerous than for several years. Capt. Brown will be in the scholastic sprint and the quarter mile; Farmer, the football captain, looks good for a place on the relay team, and will also compete in the sprints; McPhee, Arney, and A. Brown are good relay men, and Henderson is a very fair half miler. In addition to these men, Eastern will enter Van Vleet, Reeves, Wager, R. Woodfield, Papson, Darrow, Roberts, Fitzhugh, and several other boys in the various open events.

Tech in Open Events.

The Technical school will not attempt to put on a relay team, but will have some men in the sprints and hurdles, and probably in the mile run. Thrall, the High school champion, is expected to be very dangerous in the hurdles.

Central High, as usual, has the largest number of candidates at work and is going to make a desperate effort to win the Pennsylvania cup. The Blue and White school will have Carter, Fleming, McKeever, Chaney, Henry, Sherman, McDonald, Barnett, Fishburne, and others in the novice sprint; Wilson, Capt. Kemper, Burch, Chaney, and Phillips in the 50-yard open; Corey, Hamilton, Kemper, and McKeever in the hurdles; Mueller, Phillips, Henry, Chaney, Carter, Clark, Forbes, Marshall, and others in the 600-yard novice; Dick, Clagett, Eagen, and Bielski in the half mile run; Schmidt, the local champion, Maxey and Richards in the mile run; Burch, Spransy, and Tweedy in the shot-put, and Fishburne, Wilson, and Kemper in the 50-yard open handicap. Central is figuring on Capt. Kemper, Schmidt, Wilson, McKeever, Eagen, Clagett, and Fishburne to win the bulk of her points. There will also be two midget relay teams from the O street school.

The Washington School for Boys track candidates under the direction of Coach B. M. Fontaine, formerly of the Episcopal High School, of Alexandria, have been getting into good shape for the games. They will have a senior team, probably to run the Episcopal High School, and a number of very promising men in the open events. The Army and Navy School and the Georgetown Prep School each has a good string of sprinters and distance runners who are likely to snatch away the trophy cup.

Virginia Teams.

The Woodberry-Forrest School and the Episcopal School of Alexandria are the leading Old Dominion contestants for the Pennsylvania cup. Woodberry-Forrest will depend on Capt. Granger, Claiborne, A. Galt, and C. Galt in the sprints; Magruder in the mile run, and Thomas and Tappan in the relay distances. The first four boys will probably compose the senior relay team.

The Alexandria school has a stronger team last year with Charrington for the high jump and hurdles; Pendleton in the sprints; Latane, Doubleday, and McClelland in the quarter mile; Williams in the weights, and Blanchard and Taylor in the middle distances. The relay team will probably be Latane, Doubleday, McClelland, and Charrington.

The grade school championship promises to fill better than last year. In addition to the Eckington and Western schools it is probable that there will be at least two other grammar school teams entered.

Manager Foley said last night that it is the intention of the management of the Federal games this year to have every competitor represented by the Amateur Athletic Union. Dr. D. E. Wiber, the local member of the registration committee, at 1329 F street, is in charge of the registration.

Prizes for Railway Bowlers.

The following list of prizes has been offered by the bowling committee of the Railway Relief Association:

Individual high scores—January 21 to February 2—First prize, order for one-half ton coal; second prize, order for one-half cord wood; third prize, order for one pair gloves.

To the player making the greatest number of pins in six eight games from January 21 to February 2, the player making the greatest number of pins in six eight games from February 4 to February 18, inclusive, will be given an order for a pair of $4 shoes.

Burke Beat Blackburn.

Philadelphia, Jan. 26.—Jack Blackburn defeated Billy Burke in the wind-up at the Spring Garden Athletic Club last night, but it is doubtful whether the colored man was trying his best. He made no effort to land effectively in the first round, but his superiority enabled him to win comfortably.

Easy for Y. M. C. A. Reserves.

The Y. M. C. A. Reserves easily defeated St. John's last night by 23 to 2. Robertson and May did the best individual work.

YALE'S ROWING PLANS.

Graduate Coach Will Be Abolished and Kennedy Will Be at Helm.

There will be no graduate head coach at Yale this year. This is an innovation that was started last season. Till two years ago a graduate head coach acted with Coach Kennedy in directing the affairs of the oarsmen, Kennedy doing the technical coaching and the alumni looking after the executive work of the oarsmen.

Julian W. Curtiss, '79, of New York, has now become Yale's regular rowing adviser, occupying about the same position with respect to the crews that Walter Camp does to the football and baseball teams. Mr. Curtiss will make frequent trips from New York to consult with Messrs. Noyes and Kennedy, who will be with the oarsmen regularly.

Yale's outlook is regarded as poorer than last year, for, in addition to losing three of the strongest oarsmen by graduation, Capt. Biglow, of the football team, declined to row longer at No. 4. Mayer, the freshman crew stroke of last year, is being used in that seat. Boulton will again be found at stroke, and Ide will row No. 7 again.

Capt. Noyes will be kept at No. 6, and Peyton, of the freshman crew last year, will be at No. 5. Rice, of the 1906 oarsmen, is the most likely man to get No. 3. Graham will be kept at No. 2, and Rockwell will be tried at bow. He was bow of the varsity four last season.

There is no chance of Cambridge crew competing in America in 1907. The great expense that would be attached to such a trip would necessitate subscriptions being asked to defray them, and we are against such a procedure.

NEW SYSTEM AT VIRGINIA

Code to Govern Graduate Football Coaches Is Announced.

Cambridge Has No Intention of Rowing Harvard to Return Race.

London, Jan. 26.—In reference to the report that Cambridge would row Harvard a return match in America next summer, Stuart, who was Cambridge's stroke against Harvard in 1906, said to the Publishers' Press correspondent:

"There is no chance of Cambridge crew competing in America in 1907. The great expense that would be attached to such a trip would necessitate subscriptions being asked to defray them, and we are against such a procedure."

TENNIS IS BOOMING

Predicts Most Active Season the Sport Ever Witnessed.

HOST OF YOUNG ASPIRANTS

Latest Candidates in the Game Have Shown Remarkable Skill, and Have Built Up Their Style of Play Along More Scientific Lines Than the Men Who Have Gone Before.

Throughout the ranks of lawn tennis players there is displayed the enthusiastic belief that the annual meeting of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association, to be held within two weeks in New York, will mark the beginning of the most active season that the sport has ever witnessed in this country.

There is also the feeling on the part of its most ardent supporters that, despite the many mishaps of last year, the Dwight F. Davis international challenge cup will be returned to this country from its English holders. They are of the opinion that with all of the unfortunate handicaps with which the season of 1906 was marred, the record of the year indicated the amazing strength of the game and the fact that it was recruiting from the ranks of those inclined toward strenuous athletic sports.

The setting forward of the date for the playing of the internationals prevented the Americans from showing their best form, and they met defeat. But this was not all so far as the internationals were concerned, for on the eve of sailing the mainstay of the American team, Beals C. Wright, met with an accident which prevented his playing and caused the quest of the Yankees to become hopeless, although they won their way to the challenge round and met the English holders of the cup.

Marked Clothier's Victory.

The matches at Newport brought out a chapter of unfortunate occurrences which marred the victory of William J. Clothier and dimmed his right to the title. The echo of the changes in the administration of the English Lawn Tennis Association was felt in this country, and rounded out the crucial period of the sport with an effort to determine the status upon which amateur and professional players may be rated as such in the game.

The most pleasing feature that illuminates the records of the year is the number of new faces and younger aspirants for the honors, who have crowded the veterans as never before. In their holding of the most coveted of the titles the older players have made themselves a good deal more numerous than in the tournament records have the younger men worked changes in the final that with the same development on their part another season there promises to be something like a wholesale exchange of championships and trophies from the older to the younger men.

During the season the latter hardly attained that poise and balance by which the close matches of the veterans have been enabled to turn many an apparent defeat into a triumph. The amazing skill shown by a number of the "comers" sufficiently indicates that upon American courts the standard racket work is attaining that perfection which has allowed the famous Englishmen to retain the Davis international challenge cup.

Young Players Do Well.

The younger players appear to have built up their game along more scientific lines than their predecessors, and experts during the competitions of the twenty-sixth annual national championship completed at Newport by the victory of William J. Clothier, prophesied that it would be a team composed of two men now rated as comers and one veteran who would regain the international cup for this country in the challenge matches of 1908.

It is significant that the two leading players, Collins and Ward, retired from active tournament play this year. Collins won the Western States championship for the eighth time, and also the Northwestern title, and both he and

Ward have declared that the pressure of business will prevent their active engagement in tennis affairs another season. It is reported that Little may be the partner of Wright in the doubles another year, as the place will be left vacant by Ward's retirement.

The controversy has been increased as to the continuance of the national championship upon the courts of the Casino at Newport. There is a growing desire upon the part of the players to take the tournament elsewhere, and New York, Brooklyn, and Philadelphia has each put forth bids for the event. There was considerable fault-finding on the part of the competitors as to the condition of the Casino turf last season, and even with the playing of the tournament there next year, a number of important changes are sure to be made.

D. C. N. G. WRESTLING TOURNEY

Eight Events Will Draw Prominent Amateur Wrestlers.

The first annual wrestling tournament of the District National Guard Athletic Association on February 19 and 21, promises to enlist practically all of the best amateur grapplers of this city and Baltimore.

There are eight events on the card and the winner of each match will be presented with a championship medal, while the club making the most points will receive a trophy. Entries close February 15. Only registered athletes will be eligible to compete.

BASKET-BALL TEAM'S TRIP.

Capt. Edwards Is Arranging Schedule for a Picked Quint.

Capt. Edwards, manager of athletics in the National Guard, has practically completed the list of dates for a trip of a picked basketball team from the Corcoran Cadets and Second Regiment quints. The schedule includes New York, Brooklyn, Danbury, Newark, Paterson, Orange, Norwalk, East Hampton, Terryville, and Narragansett.

Capt. Edwards will take eight players from the following: Rice, Schloesser, Hunter, Hubbard, Casassa, Regis, Ropp, Clark, Smith, Scroggins, and White.

GEORGETOWN TWICE WINNER

Defeats Carroll Institute Reserves and Preps Beat Y. M. C. A. Scrubs.

Herran and Schwab Wrestle to Draw Between Basketball Games in New Ryan Gymnasium.

The first public exhibition of indoor sports ever conducted at Georgetown was held last evening in the Ryan Gymnasium in the form of a tournament. There were two basketball games and a wrestling bout. The Georgetown Preps again defeated the Y. M. C. A. Yankees, 22 to 11. The Georgetown Varsity defeated the Carroll Institute Reserves in a fast game, 22 to 6, and between the game there was a special exhibition six-minute wrestling bout between two of Prof. Joyce's pupils at Carroll Institute, Vic Herran and Jake Schwab. The style was catch-as-catch-can, and, although Schwab outweighed Herran, the former could not obtain a fall and the match resulted in a draw.

The Preps and the Yankees played a close game until the last half, when the Preps threw a number of baskets and won out handily. Kingsley and Yund starred for the Preps, while Conover was high man for the Yankees.

The feature of the college game was the work of Downey and Crogan, the latter getting high score for his team and keeping up the reputation he made for himself last night when he broke the record for baskets for the District. Line-up:

Burns Defeats Jim Parr.

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 26.—Farmer Burns defeated James Parr, the English champion, here last night in one of the fastest wrestling matches ever seen in this city. A challenge to the winner was made by Frank A. Gotch, the American champion, and Burns announced that he had accepted the match, to be held in Birmingham.

No difficulty is anticipated by Johnson in the matter of arranging dates as the length of the season
